Little Interest in Registration.

Registration for the city of Paris passed off quietly Tuesday, neither political party taking any interest in the outcome. The usual number of party workers were absent and no one made an effort to get voters to the polls and to register their names. The regularly appointed officers in several precincts failed to show up and much delay ensued in getting men to serve. The registration for the city is as follows:

First Ward, Precinct No. 1—Democrats 100; Republicans 30; precinct No. 2, Democrats 149; Republicans 31. Second Ward, precinct No. 3—Democrats 109; Republicans 41; precinct No. 4, Democrats 131; Republicans 64. Third Ward, precinct No. 5—Democrats 90; Republicans 190; precinct No. 6, Democrats 79; Republicans 124. Total Democrats, 654; Republicans, 480.

Compared with 1909, when the Democrats registered 898 and the Republicans 609, the registration shows a Democratic loss of 144 and a Republican loss of 129. Thirty-two voters registered as independents.

To Pay Teachers.

Salaries of the teachers in the schools of the State will not be paid until October 15, instead of October 8, but they will be only one week late, thanks to Capt. Ed Farley, State Treasurer, who has stretched every effort to get together enough money to pay all the teachers. Capt. Farley Tuesday notified Prof. Ellsworth Regensten, Superintendent of Public Instruction, that the money would be on hand on October 15 and to notify county superintendents that pay day must be on that date, instead of a week earlier. The amount that will be distributed will be half a million dollars.

Bourbon Lodge Should Attend.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Kentucky, convenes in Lexington, Oct. 11. On this day, in the afternoon, the magnificent new Administration building of the Widows and Orphans Home is to be dedicated amid the enthusiasm of thousands of Odd Fellows and the gratitude of hundreds of widows and orphans.

Bourbon Lodge No. 23, should have a large delegation present on that occasion. No lodge in the state has more faithfully supported that Home than Bourbon Lodge. Her members are ever been found among the most enthusiastic promoters of the great "principles of benevolence and charity."

Let the members begin now to get ready for next Tuesday's great occasion. Let us go in a body and make the representatives of other lodges feel the power of "Faithful Old Bourbon."

We've Got Him "On the Run."

Two Coming Reforms.

The success of the insurgent Republicans seems likely to hasten two reforms, first, the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people; second, the initiative and referendum, and if they do not succeed in accomplishing anything more they will have done enough to recompense them for the effort they have put forth, says the Commonwealth. The democrats and insurgents ought at the coming session of congress to bring before the senate a resolution submitting the constitutional amendment providing for the election of senators by a direct vote. If they find that they have not enough votes to pass it the fight will help to bring it before the next congress. It can not be many years away.

In the states the democrats ought to secure the assistance of the progressive republicans and submit an amendment providing for the initiative and referendum. Direct legislation cures the imperfection of representative government. It is a coming reform and now is the time to press it.

Monopolizing Water Power.

Mr. Herbert Knox Smith, the United States commissioner of corporations, in the conservation meeting held at St. Paul recently, called attention to the concentration of water power in private hands. He said: "This process is rapidly advancing. Eighteen concerns control 3,200,000 horse power water power today. The total water power in the United States is 5,300,000. Fifty-three men in the Central Electric company forms a group which controls eighty public service corporations, more than fifteen railroads, six companies that use their power in manufacturing cotton goods, and over fifty banks and financial houses."

"This," Mr. Smith adds, "means a personal relationship that makes further conservation possible. A few brief conferences might at any moment concentrate into definite form a seeping control over the dominant water power of the country as well as their related public service corporations." This is a very strong statement. More than one-half of the water power in the United States now controlled by eighteen concerns, and the larger use of water power for the generation of electricity just in its infancy! Is it strange that the special interests are active? Is it not strange that the public is not more alert than it is? This water power that comes rushing down the mountain sides and can be harnessed without great expense is waste of tremendous value? Surely it behooves the public to see to it that this generation shall not fetter future generations by perpetual monopolies or even by limited franchises of excessive duration. Now is the time to act.

Ignorant of the Law.

Winchester Democrat: "John Rucker was tried for bigamy Friday and was given three years in the penitentiary on a plea of guilty. He was given permission to make a statement to the jury and stated that after he was married the first time he served a term in the penitentiary and was informed and believed that this sentence divorced him without further process of law. Acting on this belief he married again with no intention of violating the law. The Governor will probably be asked to pardon him as he was doubtless sincere in what he said."

A New Law.

As the time of year is approaching for trapping hunters may well bear in mind the new law which forbids the setting of any steel traps, dead falls or snares on the lands of another without the consent of the owner of the property and which fixes a penalty of a fine of five to twenty-five dollars for breaking the law.

Burned at the Stake.

Six hours after he had committed criminal assault upon Mrs. Hiram Stuckey, a prominent young woman of Covington county, Ala., Bush Withers, a negro "trusty" at a convict camp, was taken for the warden Monday night while enroute to prison by an infuriated mob of 400 men and burned. The lynching was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner, after which the mob, formed from the adjoining towns, dispersed to their homes, leaving no traces of their fury save the ashes of the negro. The woman is in a serious condition and may not recover.

Unhappy Unions.

Richmond and Madison county seem to be suffering considerably from the divorce evil. Up to a few days ago thirteen divorce suits had been filed in the Circuit Court of that county and the Richmond Climax has the following to say:

"Since the last term of the Circuit Court thirteen unhappy couples have their names on the court docket for divorce proceedings. These are appearances for this term, and if they are all granted it will be a continuance of ill luck, if the old sign stands good—the No. 13. One thing noticeable in past years is the fact that on many occasions the appearance docket for divorce cases contained this ill fated number. Not one of the petitions filed recently contains anything sensational, but all seem to be just a decision on the part of either the man or woman to quit the marital state and begin all over again. The divorce evil is one of the greatest the country is burdened with and much missionary work could be done right here in Kentucky in behalf of it.

The Result.

If some day the newspaper man should print the contents of his waste basket there would probably be riot, remarks an exchange. There would be trouble in many homes, arrests in some direction, shotguns in others, trouble all around. But the patron never sees the waste basket. He only glances at the beautifully printed pages, complains if one letter in fifty is upside down, grows his disappointment if one name in five hundred happened to go wrong, kicks because his communication signed "Tax Payer," has been condensed into respectable English, frowns because the editor didn't take his advice about publicly warning the neighborhood against throwing more melons in the alley, and is generally disgruntled, principally at what he fails to find. He knows his share of the waste basket, but if he could have one look at the contributions made to that receptacle by his neighbors and friends he would thank God for the existence of a man with sufficient intelligence and courage not to print all he knows, and to temper even that which he does print.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Fortage, O. To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense. Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until the directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally. Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

The Secret of Youth

Do you ever wonder how you can remain young, or why other women older than you, look younger than you do? The secret can be put in a few words: "Preserve your health, and you will preserve your youth."

By "health" we mean not alone physical health, but nerve health, as, sometimes, magnificently strong-looking women are nervous wrecks.

But whether you are weak physically or nervously, you need a tonic, and the best tonic for you is Cardui.

It builds strength for the physical and nervous systems. It helps put flesh on your bones and vitality into your nerves.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"My mother," writes Mrs. Z. L. Adcock, of Smithville, Tenn., "is 44 years old and is passing through the change of life."

"She was irregular and bloated and suffered terribly. My father stepped over to the store and got her a bottle of Cardui, which she took according to directions and now she is up, able to do her housework and says she feels like a new woman." Try Cardui in your own case.

January Appointed as Aide.

When the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows meets in Lexington next week the city will be crowded with visitors and delegates from all over the State. On Tuesday there will be given a parade in which all members of the order in the city will participate. Mr. Stanley Milward, a member of the Lexington Lodge, has been appointed by the committee to take charge of the parade, and has appointed Judge E. B. January of this city as one of his aides. Mr. Milward's letter to Judge January is as follows:

Dear Sir:—
The local committee has asked me to take charge of the parade next Tuesday and I hereby appoint you as one of my aides. I will have a good horse for you. From what the committee tells me there will be from two to five thousand in line and that being the case I need a few such as you to pull it off right. Let me hear from you. Yours,
STANLEY MILWARD.

All Around Town.

Mary had a little hobbie skirt
Tied tightly in a bow,
And every where Mary would "have went"

She simply couldn't go.
A would-be masquerade, one of the kind you all know, stood in front of the Fordham Wednesday night while the big crowd was coming from the performance at the Grand, and fastened his longing gaze on every young woman who chanced to pass that way. He had something to say to every woman that happened to look in his direction, an if not to her he made some comment on her appearance to his companions, who evidently thought him witty, for they laughed uproariously. It happened that a good looking young woman without a manly escort passed, and the masquerade had to resort to the old saying, old enough to grow whiskers, "I love my wife but, oh you kid."

He looked directly at the young woman when he made this exceedingly witty and original remark. She became furious, and turned on him in a way that led the spectators to believe that there would be something doing. All she did, however, was to remark in a voice loud enough to have been heard by all the bystanders, "I love my dog, but, oh, you pup."

The masquerade was speechless and the crowd turned on him and gazed him unmercifully. They made it so uncomfortable for him that he sneaked away as soon as he could do so. There was nothing dignified in the remark of the pretty young woman but it seemed to have served the purpose for which she intended it. More power to the likes of her.

"Say, old man?" said Oscar Peddicord at the Stag a night ago, to a guest who had just come down stairs, "what made all that racket in your room last night?"

"Oh, nothing much," he replied.

"I had just returned from a clothing store up street with a new suit of combination underwear, and I lost the combination and that was what caused the racket when I tried to get into the darned things."

Oscar evidently considered it a satisfactory explanation.

A Millersburg item in a local paper says that "Mr. A— is taking the rest cure at home."

Shucks! Only one man there in that business! Why Paris is full of 'em! Men who haven't done a day's work in months "are at home," or elsewhere, "taking the rest cure" while their poor, patient, hardworking wives are putting in sixteen hours, perhaps, devising ways and means of running the household. Take a stroll up Main street some fine day and make a mental note of the men you see "taking the rest cure" in front of some man's place of business. And they seem to get along just as well as the hardworking man at that.

THEATRICAL.

"THE GIRL FROM RECTOR'S."

Theatre goers are anticipating with a remarkable show of interest the forthcoming production in this city of "The Girl From Rector's" which ran over three hundred nights at Webster's Music Hall, New York. All box office records were broken during the engagement and the run might have continued indefinitely were it not for the necessity of filling out-of-town contracts that had been previously made.

"The Girl From Rector's" is declared by the Metropolitan critics to be one of the funniest of high-class productions made there in many years. The plot deals with the actions of a young society woman of Battle Creek, Mich., who is charitably inclined. She spends most of her time in her own circle at home but her husband, a judge at the court of Shanghai is away for such long periods she decides to go to New York for recreation and rest. She is attracted by the glaring lights at Rector's and there she makes her headquarters. In the course of time she earns the sobriquet of "The Girl From Rector's" and on her next visit to Battle Creek she meets at the home of a society friend many of those of the Rector circle. She had been posing as the daughter of a buffalo man and while "The Girl" in dual identity, complications arise which reveal a series of situations that keep the audience in a roar to the final curtain.

The engagement of "The Girl" here is limited to one night at the Grand, on Thursday, October 13. Prices 25 to $1.50. Seats go on sale at Mitchell & Blakemore's Monday morning at nine o'clock. On account of the magnitude of this attraction the free list is entirely suspended, and no more than six seats will be sold to any one person.

Mrs. Marshall's Portrait in Hall of Fame.

The Henry County Local has the following: "If you ever go to Frankfort, pause and look upon a picture there. It is of a woman—a woman, once a resident of 'Old Henry,' and still much loved by the people of the county. The picture hangs in Kentucky's Hall of Fame. The place assigned it is just below that of Gen. Robert E. Lee. Though widely known for intelligence and lovely character, this good woman's chief distinction is due to the fact that she is the only person of her sex in the United States, after whom a Masonic Lodge was ever named. The lodge bearing her name is Marshall Lodge No. 700, of Port Royal, Ky. It hardly need be stated, therefore to our readers that the lady referred to is Mrs. Judith Langhorn Marshall, who once lived upon and still owns a plantation which occupies practically all of Marshall's Bottom, this county. Her home now is at 430 West St. Catherine's street, Louisville, Ky."

A Rare Treat.

Brother Morgan's lecture last Friday evening at the public school auditorium was well attended and greatly appreciated. Nearly all the seats on the first floor have been sold and many found their way to the balcony from which they had a good view of the magnificent pictures as they passed in rapid succession before their eyes. The speaker was happy in his diction and rhetorical figures and occasionally he sandwiched well chosen bits of humor that made all more enjoyable. At other times pathos, tender and sweet, touched each heart. This lecture brought before the audience the sea, many of its interesting islands, so rich in story, Egypt and Rome, all of which abound in classical beauty and historical interest.

This evening the sacred Holy Lands, so rich in Bible scenes and so deeply interesting to all who love the Christ and His holy religion will be interesting and touched into life and beauty by the great and good speaker. Surely parents will bring their children to see these wonderful places and hear their pathetic story. It will, beyond question, be great. We feel that no one who can possibly do so, can afford to miss it. Season tickets, a few of which have not yet been sold, 50 cents; single tickets in the balcony 25 cents; children under twelve years of age, 10 cents. Doors open at 7:30 and the High School Band will play till 8 o'clock, at which time the lecture will begin. It will be a most enjoyable and profitable occasion. Don't miss it.

"The Sixth Commandment" at Lexington.

The attraction at the Lexington opera house for three nights and Saturday matinee, commencing Thursday, October 6, will be a remarkable play entitled "The Sixth Commandment," which deals with one of the most vital questions of the day, race suicide. The author, Robert McLaughlin, who was the personal protege and personal secretary of the late President William McKinley, acknowledges that he received the inspiration for his drama from ex-President Roosevelt, whose utterances on this subject have been quoted all over the world.

The story deals with the substitution of a baby boy from an orphan asylum for a real heir of a wealthy New Yorker who wants a child to perpetuate his name and carry on his work. He had been childless because of the selfishness of his wife. Finally, when she sees that he is so anxious to have an heir, she schemes that while he is away on a prolonged business trip she adopts this infant and makes him believe that it is their own child. As it is afterwards learned, the child is really the offspring of her own brother and her husband's niece. The real mother of the child falls heirless to a large fortune and the worthless father then offers to right the wrong. She realizes that his motive is to get her money, but decides to marry him for the sake of her child, and the selfish woman, who had adopted the child, loses faith and trust of her husband. The play closes with all terrific denunciation of the selfish childless wife by her embittered husband.

The play is splendidly cast with metropolitan players, and promises to create no end of discussion. It is probably the most daring play ever staged in this country, but at the same time the theme is handled with delicacy. All mail order for seats accompanied by remittance will receive prompt attention.

Little Rock to Vote on Graded School.

Unusual interest is being taken in an election to be held Saturday at Little Rock, this county, called for the purpose of taking the census of the voters and citizens upon the proposition of voting a tax of thirty-five cents in each $100 worth of property listed for sale taxation for the purposes of establishing a graded school.

While a large number of the most wealthy and influential citizens of the precinct are in favor of the proposition an equally large number are making a strong fight to defeat the measure and one of the hottest elections held in years will take place.

The calling of the election was fought out in the county court, Judge Denis Dundon overruling the demurrer of the defendants and deciding the citizens had a legal right to vote the tax.

The territory embraced in the call includes all of the Little Rock school district and part of the Hedges and Burris districts and will include a section of the county that will have practically two hundred children of school age.

Those who are waging the fight for a graded school assert that the community is badly in need of a school wherein the higher branches of education can be taught and that they reside so far from such a school that they cannot give their children a high school education without incurring great expense.

The opponents of the measure say that the election is not being held according to the provisions of the law regulating such school elections, and presented by a committee of citizens who visited Paris Wednesday, they sought the advice of a prominent attorney of the Paris bar who, after looking up the law, advised that if such an election was held it would be null and void.

The law expressly provides, according to the legal opinion rendered, that the election must not only be upon the question of taxation alone but that at the same time and place an election must be held for the selection of a board of five trustees, the former to be by viva voce and the latter by a secret ballot and that said trustees attorney of the Paris bar who, after looking up the law, advised that if such an election was held it would be null and void.

There will be only one polling place, which will be the regular voting place at Little Rock. J. and Elmer Boardman will be the judges of the election and Ike Crouch clerk, by appointment of Sheriff A. S. Thompson, under whose supervision the election is being held.

MATRIMONIAL.

—The marriage of Mr. Richard B. Rippetoe and Mrs. Kate Maloney was celebrated Wednesday evening at the Catholic parsonage, the Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn officiating. The groom is an employe of the Louisville and Nashville railroad in the capacity of freight conductor, while the bride who for a number of years as conducted a boarding house on Pleasant street is extremely popular.

—The following handsomely engraved invitation has been issued to out-of-town relatives and friends:

"Mr. Herman Margolen requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of his daughter to Mr. George Coleman Schwartz on the evening of Sunday the twenty-third of October one thousand nine hundred and ten at three o'clock at the residence in Henderson street Paris, Kentucky."

Esther

—The marriage of Miss Sarah Armand Jones to Mr. Walter Stephenson Meng was celebrated Wednesday evening at the North Middletown Christian church. Elder Carey E. Morgan of Paris, was the officiating minister, and was assisted by Elder J. W. Ligon, of North Middletown.

The church was beautiful with its decorations done by a local florist. The altar, over which was suspended a huge wedding bell, was banked with palms and ferns which screened the musicians. From the bell to the pillars of the church in the aisles, were streamers of Southern smiles.

A harpist and violinist played a delightful program of selections while the guests assembled. Miss Vance sang several sweet vocal selections to the accompaniment of Miss Bridges on the organ.

To the soft strains of Lohengrin the wedding party entered. Misses Ethel Fisher, of Carlisle and Ethel Talbot of Paris, came up the center aisle while Messrs. Chas. Meng and Robert Jones entered the aisles at either side of the church. Next came Misses Mary Cobb Stoffer, of Mt. Sterling, Agnes Coble of Union City, Tenn., and Messrs. Calvert Meng and Neville Collins in the same order.

The dame of honor, Mrs. John Willie Jones, came next followed by Miss Martha Ferguson of Paris, the maid of honor. The bride, on the arm of her brother, Mr. John Willie Jones, who gave her away, entered and were met at the altar by the groom with his best man, his brother, James Meng, of Tennessee. The couple stood for the impressive service by Elder Morgan and knelt on satin cushions for the final prayer and blessing by Elder Ligon.

The bride wore a lovely wedding gown of white satin and the tulle veil was fastened in her hair with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The maids were gowned in white messaline and each carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The dame of honor was lovely in a yellow gown, of brocade satin and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The Mendelssohn wedding march was played for the departure and the bridal party left the church. Mr. and Mrs. Meng were driven to Winchester in an automobile from which point they left for a three weeks' bridal tour in the East.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. William S. Jones of North Middletown, is a charming young lady and is admired for her unusual beauty and accomplishments. The bridegroom is a young farmer, very popular with a large circle of friends and is a son of Mr. Chas. Meng, of North Middletown.

The wedding was the most beautiful society event of the early fall. A number of persons from a distance attended. Among these present from Paris were: Mr. C. O. Hinton, Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Dailey, Mrs. Roy Clendennin, Miss Clara Belle O'Neil, Mrs. W. W. Judy, Mrs. Nellie Highland, Mrs. Vol Ferguson, Mrs. Ray Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hampton Whitley.

NORTH MIDDLETOWN ITEMS.

—Mrs. Skinner Kerr of Winchester, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. James Bryan.

—Mrs. John I. Fisher, of Louisville, is with her mother, Mrs. Goff, for an extended visit.

—Miss Piper of Parsons, Kas., and Mr. and Mrs. Calvert of Mason county are the guests of Dr. Weaver.

—Miss Leola Jeffries and Mrs. Alice Denton of Mt. Sterling, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Caywood.

—Mrs. Nellie Highland, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Judy and little son of Paris, were the guests Wednesday of Mr. T. J. Judy.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. March and daughters of Lexington, were the guests Wednesday of Mr. C. H. Meng and attended the Jones-Meng wedding.

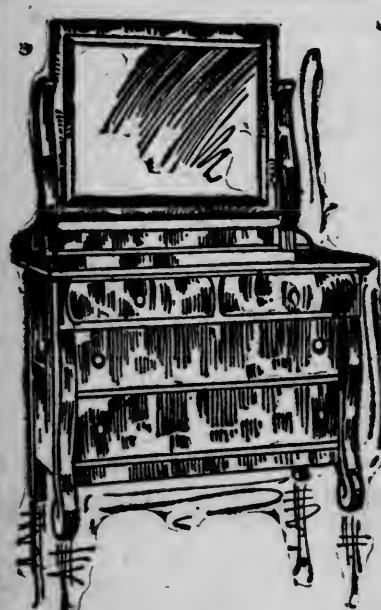

—Mr. J. F. Ringo and Miss Arabella Bogie of Mt. Sterling, were the guests of friends here Wednesday and attended the Jones-Meng wedding.

—Saturday afternoon at Thomason Park, the football team of the Kentucky Classical and Business College will meet the strong team representing the Paris High School. This will be the first football game of the season and will be called at three o'clock.

Injured in Collision.

While enroute to the farm of Mr. Catesby Woodford on the Georgetown pike Wednesday night, where he is engaged as nightwatchman, Mr. Dan Earlywine met with a painful accident in the Georgetown bridge as the result of a collision with a buggy going the opposite direction. Mr. Earlywine was thrown from the buggy and rendered unconscious. The vehicle was badly damaged and the harness broken. Two men, the occupants of the other vehicle, unknown to Mr. Earlywine, came to his assistance. He sustained a severe cut on the side of his head and was bruised about the body, but not seriously hurt.

Brooks' drug store says to every person, be it man, woman or child, who has an irritated, tender or itching skin to come to our store and procure a bottle of ZEMO and a cake of ZEMO soap and if you are not entirely satisfied with results, come back and get your money. So confident are we of the efficacy of this clean, simple treatment, that we make this unusual offer.

ZEMO and ZEMO soap are the most economical as well as the cleanest and most effective treatment for affections of the skin or scalp, whether on infant or grown person.

Unwritten Law Upheld.

Katherine Botti, a girl of thirteen, who slew her godfather with an axe and a red hot poker, in avenging his theft of her honor, was cleared of criminal charges in a Pittsburg court Tuesday on the ground that the homicide was justifiable.

Judge John M. Swearingen, in charging the jury after a two days' recital of the testimony, upheld the unwritten law. The girl had faced trial with confidence that her act was warranted and went to her home free.

Pasquale Volpe, who had boarded at her home ever since her infancy, and who acted as her godfather, was the victim. A number of witnesses testified to the girl's good character.

The danger will not be over for several days on account of complications. He stood the operation well and prospects for his recovery are good.

WALTER A. WOOD MOWERS

Are Different From All Others

When the late Walter A. Wood built his first mower in 1882 it was upon a principle entirely different from any other. That same principle today distinguishes our mowers from all others. It is the "floating frame" described so fully in our catalog. All manufacturers of mowers admit that the "direct under-draft" principle is the correct one—but they can't use it because genuine under-draft is possible only with the "floating frame" construction which is exclusive to Walter A. Wood Mowers. We feel justified in asserting that our mowers are: the easiest running, lightest draft, handiest to operate, least expensive to keep in repair and longest lived. This mower that leads on these points is the mower it will pay the farmer to buy. There are many other good points fully illustrated and described in our Catalog. Write for it today.

THE ARCTIC CROP.

Frigid Yield From Greenland's Icy Mountains.

THE MAKING OF AN ICEBERG.

Huge Sheets of Ice a Mile Thick In Places Slide Down to the Sea, and as the Ends Become Too Heavy
They Break Off and Form Bergs.

At any time of the year ice may be encountered in the Atlantic north of the fortieth parallel of latitude, approximately that of New York, and between 42 and 55 degrees west longitude, but it is in spring, when the increasing warmth of the sun loosens the arctic floes and causes the bergs to melt and float from the places where they have been stranded, that there is the greatest danger to the mariner.

The bergs have their origin almost exclusively in western Greenland, although a few may come around Cape Farewell from the Spitzbergen sea and some from Hudson bay.

A huge sheet of ice a mile thick in places covers the whole of Greenland.
This gradually slides down the valley toward the sea, into which it is thrust in great sheets fifty miles wide. As these ends become too heavy they break off and become bergs. The process is known as "calving." The pieces set adrift thus may be a thousand feet out of the water and a mile square, but as they drift about they become broken and continue to diminish in size until they finally disappear completely. The process sometimes takes several years.

Once set adrift icebergs find their way into the Labrador current and begin their journey. But of all bergs so set adrift only a very small proportion ever find their way into the path of the transatlantic steamships.

Nor do all bergs take the same course. Some go south; others lodge against the shore or against islands.
Two years may separate the time that two bergs reach a low latitude, though they were "calved" at the same moment.

Field ice also offers an obstruction to the icebergs, though by their great size and bulk they often act as plows and aid materially in breaking up the ice fields which obstruct the arctic basin.

Ice fields are more affected by the wind than are icebergs. Bergs generally drift with the current, so that one sometimes is seen moving into the wind.

Advantage is taken of this by the sealing and fishing boats when caught in an ice field. They often moor to an iceberg and are towed miles through the ice, through which otherwise they could make no headway. This is accomplished by sinking an anchor into the berg and using a strong towline.
As the berg advances open water, with small floating ice, is left astern.

But this is indeed a dangerous thing to do. All ice is brittle, but especially icebergs. A blow of an ax has been known to split one, while the report of a gun at times will accomplish the same end. In July and August, when the bergs are breaking up along the coast of Labrador, the noise at times is deafening, and the noise of one of ten causes another to break up.

From their very nature icebergs assume an endless variety of shapes.
Some resemble geometrical figures,
while others carry fantastic domes, spires and minarets. Sometimes they appear to be veritable ice bridges, with two separate supports. In many there are great caves and indentations.
As they drift south and begin melting cascades of water pour down their sides or run from the tips of the hundreds of icicles which depend from every ledge.

Frequently there are outlying spurs in the water, as dangerous to ships as submerged reefs. For this reason vessels should always give them a wide berth, half a mile being considered the nearest that one may be approached with safety.

Several years ago the British steamship Nessmore ran into an iceberg and stove in her bows. When she was docked a scratch was found next the keel the full length of the ship, the plates being almost cut through. The ship evidently struck a submerged spur. The government report says:

"It is generally best for ships to go to windward of them, because disintegrated fragments have a tendency to drift to leeward, while open water will be found to windward."

So nicely are icebergs balanced in the water that the slightest melting sometimes will cause the center of gravity to shift, and the entire berg will capsize or founder. Thus many ships have been wrecked.

Field ice is formed throughout the waters within the arctic circle south as far as Newfoundland, and each year vast floes leave the shores and drift south into the paths of commerce. The arctic ice often has lived through several seasons in the far north and occasionally is ten to fifteen and sometimes twenty feet thick. Because of its continual motion, due to currents, wind, etc., gradually it becomes broken up. Swells from storms in the open seas cause it to raft or pile one pan on another—in the arctic every piece of field ice is a pan—until it is covered with hummocks.

Ice also becomes rafted by the grinding of a free field against another frozen to the shore or by the grinding of two fields against each other when one is given a turning motion by contrary wind and tide. This rotary motion, it is said, is particularly dangerous to ships that get caught between fields.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Autumn Styles in Hats.

"Distinct and decided are the new hat shapes this fall," says the Woman's Home Companion for October. "Perhaps the favorite is the cloche hat, which the fair Parisienne likes so much. It sometimes shows a very narrow brim which comes well down on the head and has a little peak in front. Sometimes the narrow brim is outlined with dainty frills of lace and sometimes there is just a plain wide drooping brim. Such hats are most charming for the youthful and piquant face, while for the more mature woman there are the artistic East Indian draped turbans and the turbans in many and much more conventional styles.

"The woman who is fond of the picture hat has many fetching shapes from which to choose this autumn. The brims of these hats continue extremely wide and show many new abrupt, yet pretty, curves. Sometimes the brim turns up on the left side and sometimes directly in front, while the back or left side droops so low as to completely conceal the wearer's head. "The crowns of this fall's hats are very high."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that can't be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Hold the Right Ideals.

We not only can strengthen mental weaknesses and deficiencies, but it is perfectly possible to increase the general ability through the power of suggestion, says Orison Swett Marden in "Success Magazine." Indeed, the susceptibility of all the mental faculties to improvement, to enlargement, is something remarkable.

Sometimes very strong faculties are latent until especially aroused. There are many people who pass for cowards; who are humiliated because they have so little courage, when, if they only knew how, they could strengthen this deficient faculty wonderfully by holding the courageous ideal; by thinking and doing the courageous deed; by carrying the thought of fearlessness; by reading about heroic lives; by constantly thinking the heroic thought and trying to live it. The courage may be small in a person because it has never been called into sufficient exercise. It may need only to be aroused. There are many people living lives of mediocrity who might do great things; might become mental giants if their dormant faculties were aroused, their general ability improved and enlarged.

Kills a Murderer.

A merciless murderer is appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing constipation, headache, biliousness, chills. 25c at all druggists.

Grace Wins Kentucky Futurity.

Kentucky's great fall trot began at Lexington Tuesday. The eighteenth renewal of the Kentucky Futurity was won by Grace in one of the most sensational races ever trotted on the track. Grace is owned by Captain David Shaw of Cleveland and was driven by Mike McDevitt. Colorado E., who was regarded as the most probable winner of the event took the first heat and was second in four. Grace captured the last three heats.

Prediction of 3,000 Members.

The prediction that by 1919 the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will number 3,000,000 members if it continues its present rate of increase was made by John B. Goodwin, Grand Secretary of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, at the recent annual convention at Atlanta, Ga. The one hundredth anniversary of the order falls in 1919. The Grand Secretary reported charters issued during the year of lodges in Panama, Cuba and Newfoundland, and to an Encampment in Alberta.

Two Millions the Estimated Loss

The estimate of the losses sustained by the Illinois Central Railroad, through the farming out of its car repairing, was raised until the officials now assert that nearly two million dollars was taken from the company. At first the loss was placed at a million. As the hearing progressed it was raised to a million and a half and later developments put the amount at the still higher figure.

The new estimate is based on the work of an expert accountant who has completed the tracing of most of the car repair accounts. As the result of his findings he based the average amount of the added repair charges on each car at $100. A total of eighteen thousand and eighteen cars were repaired, distributed among six companies.

E. N. Harding, inspector of piece work of the Illinois Central, now engaged in investigating the bills of the Osteram Car Equipment Company, testified that in one thousand bills of $3,042 of that company he investigated; he found overcharges.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—The Farmers Home Journal says: "Never saw such a demand for the best grade feeders and stockers; it looks like the country has awakened to the fact that there is something to cattle feeding besides a probability of making some money—that is reinvigorating and improving farm lands. The demand for choice breeding ewes is holding on later this year than usual; a few months ago when we were getting plenty of choice ewes, it was a hard matter to attract the Kentucky buyer, but now since the receipts are very light, they seem to want them and want them badly. They have all cashed in their lambs and wool, and have figured out that it is too profitable an industry to neglect."

—The Nicholas Advocate says: "H. N. Rankin has bought, shipped and sold this year to Pennsylvania parties over 600 mules. This represents 5 car loads and, averaging them at $65 per head, will mean $3,000 to the farmers of this part of the state."

—C. D. Daly, a progressive Grant county farmer, last June harvested several acres of wheat and early in August he planted the same land in corn, which is now doing fine. He has late roasting ears, and will have lots of green fodder for his silo.

—In Woodford county McKee Bros. have dug 35 acres of their first crop of potatoes and that many acres of second crop potatoes yet to dig. The yield is turning out better than they had expected. They have sold and shipped 3,100 bushels.

—Black leg broke out in the herd of Mike Brannon in Mason county last week and in less than thirty-six hours five of his finest cattle were dead. An effort is being made to prevent the spread of the disease.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. A. Nelson of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup—all throat and lung trouble. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

LeBus Re-elected President.

At the two sessions of the District Board of the Burley Tobacco Society in Lexington Wednesday, almost the entire time was occupied with the election of officers. Mr. Clarence LeBus was re-elected president by acclamation, as was also Vice President A. L. Ferguson.

There was a spirited contest when it came to the election of a secretary. Champions of Mr. J. M. Rankin proved to be in the majority, and at the request of his opponent, Mr. G. A. Brooks, the election was made unanimous before the roll call had been finished. Mr. Brooks has been secretary of the society for two years, and Mr. Rankin the assistant secretary for the same period.

Mr. Harry Vadder was elected assistant secretary by acclamation. At the afternoon session Mr. LeBus announced his selection of an Executive Board, and his recommendations were ratified. The board is the same as formerly with the exception of the Ohio member, Mr. L. Taylor of Scioto county, succeeding Mr. L. J. Evans of Brown county, and is as follows:

The auction sale of the 1909 crop of Burley tobacco began at Lexington yesterday afternoon, and buyers representing many independent concerns throughout the country are in attendance. The American Tobacco Company has no representative at the sale. Early yesterday terms of the sale were submitted to the buyers and rejected by the independent manufacturers and brokers, who in turn drafted a statement embodying their objections. A. L. Ferguson, Scott county; Lister Witherspoon, Woodford; C. C. Patrick, Fayette; U. G. Sauer, Fleming; S. A. Franklin, Mason; Fred Steuy, Carroll; A. N. Slaughter, Owen; L. Taylor, Scioto county, Ohio.

The proposition submitted by the Buyers' Committee was rejected by the Burley Society officials and the sale, which was ordered to proceed under the original terms, announced by President LeBus during the morning, started at 2:30 o'clock, with spirited bidding.

The first offerings were the low grades which started at 10 cents a pound and ranged as high as 11 cents. The average price was between 10 and 11 on practically all sales made during the afternoon.

J. N. Gibbons is the auctioneer, and the tobacco is being sold as rapidly as he can do so. The bidders are principally the independent manufacturers who rejected the terms earlier in the year.

These prices are a slump of from four to five cents on the pound from that the tobacco as originally listed at by the Society, according to the society officials.

Teachers' Association at Centerville.

The first of the series of four Teachers' Associations was held at Centerville Friday, September 30. The address of welcome was delivered by Miss Burns of the local school followed by the song "My Old Kentucky Home" by the school children. Selections were given by the pupils from Centerville and Monterey schools.

"The Ends of Education" was the theme of a paper by Miss Villey of the Hill school, in which she very ably discussed the purposes of education, showing that it is not for the mind only, but for the body and soul as well, is not acquired in the school room alone, but also by environment and experience.

"The Value of Language Study" by Miss Mattie Miller of the Jacksonville school, and "The Value of History" by Miss Lola Gray of the Houston school, were very interesting papers, illustrating what rapid progress has been made in these studies in recent years.

Miss Clay of the Elizabeth school, discussed in a very instructive manner "Higher Education for Women," giving a historical account of the beginning of woman's colleges and how they had been maintained, what success they had made and the benefits derived from them.

Miss Amelia Lear of the Monterey school, read an essay on "The Teacher's Power to Direct the Mind," wherein she showed that by holding up high ideals before the child, a love for the good and beautiful might be inculcated in growing susceptible nature.

The next discussion was by Miss Bessie Talbott on "How to Secure the Right School Spirit," in which she developed the idea that the teacher is the moving spirit of the school, and unless he is interested, neither pupils nor patrons will be interested. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the community to the pleasure of all.

Old Dan Returning.

A dispatch from Minneapolis says: "Dan McGann has asked for a position with the Blue Grass League team of Maysville for next year. He was the successful captain of the Maysville club in the nineties and was later with the New York League team. He has been asked for terms. McGann is a native of Shelbyville and spends his winters in that city. He has been in the big leagues for the past eighteen years and was a star in his younger days. He started with Harrodsburg, then went to the Southern League and later with the New York Nationals where he remained until three years ago, when Minneapolis purchased his release. After a couple of years or maybe three, in the Blue Grass League, he will join that army of 'has-beens' whose deeds on the ball field will go down as history."

The King of Entertainers

The Entertainer of Kings

The Victor is the greatest musical instrument the world has ever known.

You can judge of its perfection by the fact that President Taft, besides making records for the Victor, has a Victor himself. So has President Diaz of Mexico, and His Holiness Pope Pius X.

And among the crowned heads of Europe and Asia who use the Victor for their royal pleasure may be mentioned the King of England, the Emperor of Germany, the King of Italy, the Queen of Spain, the King of Portugal and the Shah of Persia.

With all the money at their command, these rulers can secure nothing that gives them so much pleasure as the Victor.

You can enjoy the same music and entertainment as these sovereigns. You can get a Victor for as little as $10. Others up to $100. Victrolas $125 to $250. Terms to suit.
